

North Main Gets Postoffice

$50,000 Federal Building to Go On Ballard's Tithing Yard Property.

If the Salt Lakers do not succeed in securing legislation consolidating the new Federal building with the one at the state capital, that structure for which Congressman Howell has secured an appropriation of $50,000 will be erected on the North Main street "tithing yard property." The word that this site had been selected by the government officials came on Saturday in a dispatch of which the following is a part:

"WASHINGTON, D. C., January 4. Assistant Secretary Edwards of the treasury department today selected sites for proposed public buildings at Provo and Logan. For the Logan site, offered by Melvin J. Ballard, price $3,600, on east side of Main street, between First and Second North streets, was accepted. This site has a frontage of 120 feet by 130 feet deep.

The appropriation for the building and site is $50,000, of which $15,000 is available the present year."

This settles the matter, and while the selection probably proved somewhat of a disappointment to many they will have to take their medicine and bear up with whatever compromise they can muster. There is really no occasion for quibbling, anyway. One combination with personal advantage in view sought to locate the new building on West Center. The other combination for personal advantage sought to locate the building on another site, and were successful. These latter gained the victory and are to be congratulated—but we dare venture the assertion that in neither instance was the public taken seriously into consideration. In view of that fact what's the odds as to just where the building is located?

Great Doins at Hyde Park

HYDE PARK, January 7, 1907.—The social event of the winter thus far was held today at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Seamons. That those present had one of the most enjoyable times of their lives goes without saying. It was one continual round of pleasure from the time each guest entered the doors until they bade their host and hostess good night and left for their own homes. After the arrival of their friends, and before sitting down to dinner, Mr. Seamons stated the object in giving this social to their friends, which was to honor and make happy the worthy pioneers and aged of our ward who are now in the evening of their lives and are not always able to attend other places of amusement and enjoyment. At one o'clock all of the most aged of those present were seated at the long tables, which were loaded with things of earth good enough to make an epicure think he was in Paradise. The dinner was seasoned with digestibles in the shape of graphophone music, songs and jokes. After dinner the following program was given:

Recitation.....James Hancey
Song.....Arthur Petersen
Original poem, "In Honor of the Old Folks".....Horace Hancey
Song, "Not Half has ever been Told".....Mary J. Seamons
Reading Original Poem J. J. Hancey
Song.....Arthur Petersen
Speech, "Experiences of his Life".....James Hurren
Song, "I'm Still in Love with Mollie".....Vinnie Seamons
Song, "Count Your Many Blessings".....Mrs. Johanna Petersen
Organ Solo.....James S. Hancey
Song, "Sweet Hour of Prayer".....Mary J. Seamons
Speech.....Elijah Seamons
This may not be the exact order in which the program was given, but each one acquitted himself with credit. Light refreshments were served before dismissal.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. James Hurren, Suel Lamb, Thomas W. Kirby, Elijah Seamons, Lars C. Petersen, William Elwood, T. Jorgensen, Niels J. Kjeldson, James S. Hancey, Samuel Seamons, Lorenzo Petersen, Arthur Petersen, Henry W. Ashcroft, Horace W. Hancey, and Mesdames Ridgeway, Alice Morse, Lettie Nielsen, Emma Seamons, Mary Leavitt, Jens Christensen, Sarah H. Seamons, Sarah B. Seamons, and Charlotte Inglett, of Fairview, Idaho.

The host and hostess of this delightful gathering are well known by hundreds of people as our original temple workers. They have spent a greater part of the last six and a half years in the temple. Brother Seamons also spent a year and a half in the temple a number of years ago. While Mr. and Mrs. Seamons have spent so much time in the House of the Lord, our Heavenly Father has not forgotten them. Today they have a beautiful and happy home, and are blessed with the comforts of life, and take pleasure in giving joy and comfort to the aged, and the widows, as they have done today. Such kind acts are stepping stones to happiness and happier reunions in mansions above.

James Hancey Sr., who has spent the last eight weeks receiving surgical treatment, came home yesterday, and stood the trip well. He slept better last night than he has for eight long weeks. While he received the best of treatment at the hands of the doctors and nurses, yet he is very thankful to be at home again, for "Be it ever so humble there's no place like home."

The Relief Society will give a party in the near future. The Old Folks' committee are taking steps to give the old people a "right smart time" soon.

A Parent's class was organized in our Sunday School last Sunday. The Bishopric, with the assistance of Geo. Daines, has charge of the class.

Most of our holiday visitors have gone back to their homes and labors, and there is not much doing here now.

The long-looked for snow is here at last, and the young boys and girls are as happy as larks in spring.

There was a dance in the hall Saturday, but owing to the dark stormy night the attendance was small.

The Josephine Deffy dramatic company will play here Thursday night.

Trustees.

One of the important gatherings in connection with the State Teachers' association at Ogden was that of the school trustees of the state. Quite a number of the members of school boards were present, W. W. McLaughlin and Wesley Jacques, of the Logan city board, being among the number. Mr. Jacques was made temporary secretary of the organization as it proceeded to discuss matters, and in the permanent organization effected later Mr. McLaughlin was made treasurer.

There was a general discussion of various phases of school work as it relates to boards of education, and it is the opinion of the local representatives that the meeting was productive of much good.

A set of resolutions prepared by various committees was presented to the general assembly by Wesley Jacques and unanimously adopted.

Need of Information.

The learned traveler had delivered his great lecture on the manners and customs of Japan.

"And now," he said, in conclusion, "I shall be pleased to answer questions pertaining to any peculiarities of this interesting people upon which I may not have touched in my discourse."

"Professor," eagerly asked a young married woman in the audience, "what do the Japanese do to plum juice to make it felt?"

TRAIN SERVICE ON O.S.L. MAY BE CHANGED NEXT SUNDAY

It comes to THE REPUBLICAN from reliable sources that the change of service on the O. S. L., as outlined in our last issue, will probably go into effect about next Sunday, if not then, immediately after. The plan is to convert the early morning mixed train into a passenger train and cause it to leave Cache Junction at about 6:30 a. m., proceed around the loop and on to Preston, returning about as at present—in time to meet the northbound main line train at the Junction. The afternoon trains will run as of yore.

The advantage is in giving waiting people at the Junction in the morning a quick trip into Logan and up north, furnish the people on the loop with the means of catching the 8:15 a. m. Salt Lake train as it leaves Logan, and giving the towns along the branch the early morning mail service of which they have been deprived of.

The minute details of the proposed change are not at hand, nor can we say that an official order for the change has been made, but we believe immediate results will prove the truth of the generalization we offer here.

Many Deaths and Funerals

Unprecedented Number Called In Recent Days. The Latest Record.

DIED, at Cove, Utah, Monday at 7:30 p. m., Thomas Titensor, a resident of this county since 1861. The deceased was 78 years of age and his death was due to general debility. A wife, four sons and five daughters survive him; also forty-six grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Thomas Titensor was a native of Manchester, England, born there in 1829. He came to Utah in 1861, settling at Richmond and in 1876 moved to Cove, where he resided until his death. Mr. Titensor was a very superior mechanic and in early years his services were in demand at various places in the state. He bore the distinction of being the first Master Mechanic of the Utah Northern railroad. He was generally conceded to be a good and useful man, one who enjoyed the respect and confidence of those about him.

The funeral service will be held at Cove today (Wednesday) at noon.

Mrs. Ellen Bickmore, of the Seventh ward, this city, died last Saturday at the age of 59. She leaves a husband and seven children, the latter of mature age and away from Logan. The deceased was a sister of Bishop Oldham, of Paradise, was once a resident of that town herself, and her remains were taken there for burial. The funeral service was held at Paradise on Monday, the speakers being Orson Smith, Wm. N. Thomas and Lloyd Price. Mrs. Bickmore was a very estimable lady, and many Logan friends followed her remains to Paradise despite the very inclement weather.

er. Much sincere sympathy for the bereft husband is expressed.

Word was received by Severin Jepsen Monday that his sister, Mrs. James Christensen, who lives in Teton, had lost her son Oliver aged nineteen. The funeral will take place today. The deceased was a son of James Christensen, of the Sixth ward, who, with his eldest son James, was buried in a snowslide in Logan canyon several years ago. The many friends in this city who are somewhat acquainted with the severe trials of the good woman deeply sympathize with her.

DIED—On Monday, at the age of 82, Jane Jones, a pioneer of Wellsview.

She was the wife of the late Joseph Jones, and is well known as one of the early settlers.

Funeral services were held yesterday at 2 o'clock. Further particulars are not available at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. John Montrose lost their little five-months-old girl yesterday. The little soul made a splendid fight against a siege of teething and typhoid pneumonia; but finally succumbed. The funeral will be held today at 12:30 p. m. at the residence.

The funeral service over the remains of Elizabeth Jenkins was held in the First ward meeting house on Monday at one p. m. Not many were in attendance owing to the severe storm that was prevailing. The speakers were Alexander Lewis, John Thomas, Joseph E. Cardon and Bishop B. G. Thatcher.

Some Events On The Way

Lecture To-night.

At the court house tonight at seven o'clock, Dr. W. B. Parkinson will talk to the boys under the auspices of the Juvenile Court. While his subject is not announced there is reason to believe that in the thirty or forty minutes Dr. Parkinson will talk with the boys he will give them something entertaining and helpful. All boys under eighteen years are urged to be present. The program will include vocal and instrumental music.

High Priests Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the High Priests of the Cache Stake will be held in the Tabernacle at 10 a. m. Sunday January 13, 1907. A general attendance is desired. Officers and members of other quorums cordially invited.

EDWARD W. SMITH,
SAMUEL HOLT,
BENJAMIN M. SMITH.

M. I. A. Notice.

The regular monthly conjoint officers' meeting of the Y. M. and Y. L. M. I. A. of Cache Stake will convene Sunday, January 13, 1907, at 2 p. m. in the east basement room of the tabernacle.

All officers are expected to be in attendance.
A. E. CHANNERY,
M. L. HENDRICKSON.

Allen Doone.

Allen Doone, the young Irish singer, will visit Logan January 21 with his fine company in a mammoth production of "Kerry Gow."

While this star and play have never appeared in Logan, it needs no special recommendation, as there is hardly a city of any size in which this play has not been seen or heard of.

The company supporting Mr. Doone is the old Murphy organization, and the special production carried this season includes a carload of special scenery and two thoroughbred race horses.

The company at present is filling engagements in the northwest, where it is meeting with great success.

Lecture at College.

Thursday afternoon at the Agricultural College, the eminent tragedian, r. John Griffith, will deliver a special lecture on Wm. Shakespeare and his plays. r. Griffith and his company produce "King Richard the Third" at the opera house on Thursday night and as a compliment to the college he has kindly consented to give the students this special lecture.

The students seldom have the opportunity of hearing so noted an actor and student of Shakespeare, and are eagerly looking forward to r. Griffith's coming to this city.

Smithfield Very Lively Town

Society Affairs and the Comings and Goings of the Natives Chronicled.

SMITHFIELD, Utah, Jan. 8, 1907.

—On the evening of Thursday last the primary officers of the Smithfield wards gave a surprise party on ex-President Rebecca Pitcher. They gathered before the house and sang "Count Your Many Blessings," announcing their presence in that way. The evening was pleasantly spent and the following program was rendered:

Song—Primary officers.
Remarks—Bishop Roskelley.
Song—Officers.
Remarks—A. J. Merrill.
Vocal Duet—John Miles and Ray Noble.

Refreshments were then served, prepared by the officers, to which all did ample justice.
Remarks—Elder Kimball.
Song—Elder Nelson.
Recitation—Pearl Hillyard.
Song—Nellie Dangerfield.
Remarks—Presidents-elect Hattie Watts and Maggie Roskelley.

Remarks—Bishop W. L. Winn.
Benediction—Elder Kimball.
About twenty of the officers were present, and the guests of honor were John Richter, Bishop Roskelley, Bishop Winn, Elders A. J. Merrill, Quince Kimball, Jos. Watts, J. F. Hillyard, Geo. G. Merrill, Isaac Read, Jr., Mrs. Minnie Bain, Vera Carlson and Sarah A. Pitcher.

The ex-president was presented with a beautiful present, two fancy mantle ornaments; ex-Secretary Minnie Bain was presented with a beautiful rose bowl by the officers. The program was well rendered and a thoroughly good time spent.
Sunday evening the Second Ward Mutual Association held a meeting in the Tabernacle, which on account of the inclement weather was very poorly attended. Those who attended listened very attentively to the address on "The Effects of Alcohol on the System," by Dr. R. J. Smith. Miss Harper sang a very pretty song acceptably, and after congregational singing, and benediction by Miss Mary Peterson, the meeting was dismissed.

The Old Folks Committee gave a fine dance Friday evening at Hillyard's opera house, with the Smithfield orchestra furnishing the music. The dance was one of the very best ever given in Smithfield, and a glorious time was enjoyed by the large crowd present. This dance was a financial success also.

The organ fund concert held in the tabernacle Monday evening was largely attended. George Douglass, in the laughable farce, was excellent and his efforts to amuse were very successful judging by the applause. The other selections were very good and the audience seemed well pleased.

Our popular plumber, A. J. Beveridge, is kept busy putting in water services in several residences, and is just finishing a fine piece of work in the residence of Annie McCracken.

Mayor Meikle has been confined to the house the past few days with a mild attack of appendicitis.

The Salt Lake Herald of Sunday says: "Parley P. Christensen, retiring county attorney, was presented yesterday by his associates in the county attorney's office with a handsome leather suitcase. The presentation speech was made by Willard Hansen, former chief deputy prosecutor and recently elected county attorney, and the recipient made a happy response."

Some More About Smithfield

SMITHFIELD, January 8, 1907.—Shortly after the division of this city into two wards it became necessary for the First ward to procure an organ for their meeting house. The choir of that ward, seeing the necessity of this purchase as soon as it became organized, promptly told their bishop, E. R. Miles, Jr., what they wanted, and he in turn acted as promptly in the matter. A first-class organ was bought at a cost of $215. The choir in course of a week gave a concert in Hillyard's opera house and netted a nice little payment on the instrument. However, owing to the short notice, the attendance was not large enough to justify the choir in giving up the concert, so on Monday evening, after changing the program to an extent, the concert was again presented in the Second ward tabernacle, through the

The Smithfield drug store is putting on the appearance of an up-to-date pharmacy, and credit is due the new manager, Mrs. Boynton, for the improvement.

Miss Laverne Toolson is in Richmond assisting at the telephone exchange, on account of the death of Miss Harrison, who died on Thursday.

The Smithfield school teachers say they had the time of their lives in Ogden, and think the time spent was most beneficial in many ways.

Mr. and Mrs. Lusly, of Marysville, Idaho, are visiting friends here. Mrs. Lusley was Nellie Price, formerly of this city.

Mrs. Manford Smith, who has been visiting her parents in Salt Lake City, returned home Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McCracken, of Teton Basin, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Moses Mack.

H. P. Mack and wife, of Teton Basin, are visiting Mrs. Mack's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hadfield.

Mrs. Hyrum Hillyard will return home from the hospital the latter part of the week.

Mrs. Laura Fishburn, of Brigham, has gone to Salt Lake City to visit for a few weeks.

Mrs. Minnie Nilson is having a new phone installed in her residence on Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Toolson, of Gentile Valley, are visiting with their parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Craighead spent the holidays with their son in Pocatello.

The council met on Monday evening but adjourned until Tuesday evening.

Kate Woodruff went to Logan Friday to spend a few days with friends.

Sylvester Low and wife will leave about the 15th for Idaho points.

Abram Smith spent Thursday and Friday in Salt Lake City.

A heavy fall of snow visited Smithfield Monday.

School opened Monday with a fair attendance.

Appropriate Gift.

The Salt Lake Herald of Sunday says: "Parley P. Christensen, retiring county attorney, was presented yesterday by his associates in the county attorney's office with a handsome leather suitcase. The presentation speech was made by Willard Hansen, former chief deputy prosecutor and recently elected county attorney, and the recipient made a happy response."

courtesy of Bishop Winn, to a much appreciated audience. The program was carried through to the greatest advantage of the performers and the pleasure of the public. A splendid sum was received, but there is an amount due on the organ, and in order to make up the deficiency the Sunday school of the First ward has secured the Hillyard dance hall for the first dance following the laying of a new maple floor, which will be completed and ready for the dance on Saturday evening, January 12. The proceeds are to go for the payment of the organ and all should attend.

It is generally talked of that the Second ward choir is going to put on a play shortly, for which everybody is anxiously waiting.
